

THE SLY FOX

Dave entered a hostile foreign land during the heart of the cold war, traveling to Russia over 30 times in his career. In spite of these events and the fact that he was "American", the Soviets hosts and fans could not help but pay homage to greatness. They would yell "Khitryy Lis" (Kee-tra Lees), or "Sly Fox" in admiration from the rafters. In 1984 Dave Schultz proudly represented the United States on the world's biggest stage, winning gold in Los Angeles.

- Watch Dave Schultz Gold Medal Match in the 1984 Olympics
- What would you say his signature style is?
- What is something Dave uses that you could add to your technique?
- Email us at myrmidonwrestling@gmail.com your findings.